INTRODUCTION TO PROJECT

1.1) INTRODUCTION

Welcome to "The Mahalaxmi temple "The Mahalaxmi Temple in Kolhapur, Maharashtra, India, stands as a testament to devotion and architectural brilliance. Dedicated to the goddess Mahalaxmi, the deity of prosperity, the temple holds immense religious significance for Hindus, particularly those in Maharashtra.

The history of the Mahalaxmi Temple dates back centuries. While precise dates of its establishment are debated, it is believed to have been originally built in the 7th century by the Chalukya dynasty, although subsequent renovations and expansions have taken place over the centuries. The temple has endured various invasions and natural calamities, yet it has stood the test of time, embodying resilience and faith.

The architecture of the Mahalaxmi Temple is a fine example of the Chalukyan and Hemadpanthi styles, characterized by intricate carvings, majestic pillars, and a distinctive blend of Hindu and Jain architectural elements. The temple complex features a series of ornate entrances adorned with sculptures depicting mythological scenes and deities. Inside, the sanctum sanctorum houses the idol of Mahalaxmi, crafted from black stone and adorned with jewels.

The Mahalaxmi Temple is revered as one of the Shakti Peethas, sacred sites associated with the goddess Shakti, where devotees believe various parts of her body fell during the mythological episode of Sati's self-immolation. As the presiding deity of prosperity and wealth, Mahalaxmi attracts pilgrims and worshippers from across India who come to seek her blessings for abundance and fulfillment.

1.2) Existing System

The drawbacks of existing system are as follows:

1. Existing system is difficult to understand
2. This system takes more time for the work. It is wasting process.
3. Existing system does not provide security.
4. Existing system generates many errors.
5. Existing system is based on paper documentary.
6. User faces may efforts .

1.3) NEED FOR COMPUTERIZATION :-

- Website will be globally access by everyone.

- To Provide 24* 7 easy access from anywhere.

- Reduce the work of the paper.

- Easy to collect data of each person.

- Saves time by easily access .

- Use of new technologies.

- Use of computerization help in developing country.

- The data in computer is Quality Assurance .

Scope of the System :-

1. Information Dissemination: The primary purpose of a temple website is to provide information about the temple, its history, significance, and the religious or spiritual traditions it represents. This includes details about the temple's founding, key religious figures, rituals, and beliefs.

2. Worship Services: A temple website should include information about the schedule of worship services, including times for daily prayers, weekly gatherings, and special ceremonies or festivals. This helps members of the community plan their visits and participation in religious activities.

3. Events Calendar: Maintaining an events calendar on the website enables the temple to promote upcoming events, festivals, cultural programs, educational workshops, and community gatherings. This allows members and visitors to stay informed about important dates and activities.

4. Community Engagement: The website serves as a platform for engaging with the temple community through features such as online forums, discussion boards, blogs, and social media integration. This facilitates communication, collaboration, and networking among temple members.

5. Online Donations: Providing a secure online donation platform allows temple supporters to contribute financially to support the temple's activities, maintenance, and charitable initiatives. This feature should be user-friendly and transparent, providing options for one-time or recurring donations.

6. Educational Resources: Offering resources such as articles, videos, podcasts, and study guides on religious teachings, scriptures, and spiritual practices helps educate members and visitors about the temple's tradition and philosophy.

7. Community Services: Highlighting the temple's community services, outreach programs, and charitable initiatives demonstrates its commitment to serving the broader community. This may include food drives, healthcare clinics, educational programs, and disaster relief efforts.

8. Visitor Information: Providing practical information for visitors, such as directions to the temple, parking facilities, accessibility features, and guidelines for respectful behavior, enhances the visitor experience and fosters inclusivity.

9. Multilingual Support: Recognizing the diversity of its community, the temple website should offer content in multiple languages to ensure accessibility and inclusivity for non-English speakers.

10. Gallery and Multimedia: Sharing photos, videos, and audio recordings of temple architecture, religious ceremonies, cultural celebrations, and community events enriches the website's content and provides visual and auditory insights into the temple's life and activities.

2) SOFTWARE REQUIREMENT SECIFICATION

2.1) REQUIREMENT GATHERING :

Observation:

Observation means to observe the working of existing system. Toknow the drawback and overcome them.

We are going to observe the all the existing system and introducea new system. There are many other fact finding technique like interview, questioners, and record view. But observation is best technique it is why because in questionnaires and interview the developer will not get pin details as well as all question may not be covered.

Questionnaires: -

1) What are the draw backs of the system?

2) Show process of old method of advertisement?

3) Purpose of the advertisement and the basic requirements?

4) Which are modern technical requirements and expectations?

5) What are your opinion about old advertisement and yoursatisfaction level?

Feasibility study

Feasibility study is a process of evaluating the deciding factors to check whether proposed system is feasible or not. Feasibility study is the measure of ahow beneficial or practical the development of an information system will be toan organization. The feasibility study is carried out in the following aspect.

1) Technical Feasibility
2) Operational Feasibility

Technical feasibility:

It is the measure of the practicality of a specific technical solution and the availability of the technical resources and expertise.

The technical requirements of the system are Windows7, Microsoft Visual Studio 2010 and Microsoft SQL Server 2008 R2.

Operational Feasibility:

It is measure how well a solution will work on every highly visited temples. It is also a measure of how people feel about system project. Allen Sully will achieve paper less concept, which are achieved through computerization which will cut down manual working of temple trust .

2.1) Proposed system

The use of proposed system is to improve facility which is not available in existing system. The Proposed system will help in development and use of new technology.

The proposed system will provide data security. And avoid use ofunauthorized access. The proposed system will help in reduce the paper document as the documents will the computerized. Proposed system isuser friendly which can be handled easily. Our website will provide information about temples changes and also provide all information about goddess . This Website provides facility to change as per demand.

2.2) OBJECTIVE OF SYSTEM

- Our system is user friendly.
- Proper information is displayed.
- Screens are quite simple & Easy to understand.
- Our website is multi user system.
- Save the people times.
- Our website is simple and easy to understand.
- Our website is easy to access to everyone.

3 .REQUIREMENT

3.1 Hardware Requirements

- Operating System: Windows XP 10 or 11

The home page contain the proper information about the temple and the mother lord Maha Mahalaxmi picture. This page provides proper introduction about the famous temple. The visitor get short information related to the temple and goddess which help them them understand the things properly at the time of temple visit.

The temple takes its name from Ambabai Mahalaxmi,and it is believed that the divine couple reside in the area.The temple belongs architecturally to the Chalukya empire and may have been first builtin circa 700 AD. Mounted on a stone platform, the image of the four armed and crowned goddess is made of sandstone. The image of Mahalaxmi carved in black stone is 2feet 8.5 inches in height. The Shri Yantra is carved on one of the corner oposite to mahakali in the temple primises. A stone lion, the vahana of the goddess, stands behind the statue. The Sanskrit inscription on a stone tablet in the wall of the house of Annacharya Pandtrao, now in the town hall museum says,"The great Kind Bhajadeva was reigning peacefully with pleasing conversation at Panhala, in 1190. He with a view to ensure the prosperity of his kingdom. The crown contains an image of the nag ling and yoni, the symbols of kal (the time) purush (the creater) and prakriti (the origin of universe) — .

5.1) Conclusion :-

This Software is economical, technical & as well as operational feasible. Maintenance cost will occur in this system while updating this system.

It is very user friendly. So that every user can handle it with easy. The software is developing such that it will not change the work flow of system, if some changes are suggested. This system provides facility to change as per demand.

5.2) Limitations Of Project :-

1) No one can change information of user without his permission.

2) The website is partially dynamic.

3) Some Data might lost while updating the old information.
