Study Tour to Kolhapur and Kanheri Math

Department of Political Science organized one-day study tour to Kolhapur and Kanheri Math on 10 February 2019 for the students. The tour aimed to provide practical insights into historical and political structures, enhancing our understanding of governance, culture, and heritage.

The study tour to Kolhapur and Kanheri Math provided invaluable insights into the intersection of politics, culture, and history. Students gained a deeper understanding of governance structures, cultural heritage, and the role of historical sites in political discourse. The tour not only enriched academic knowledge but also fostered a sense of inquiry and critical thinking among participants.

Eighteen Students and two teachers are participated in this tour. This tour has undoubtedly broadened our perspectives and inspired further exploration into the complexities of political science. We look forward to applying these learnings in our academic pursuits and beyond.
