BEST PRACTICE II

Tree Plantation Drive

2. Title: Tree Plantation Drive

1. Objectives:

- To save environment
- To stop unfavorable effects of climate change
- To make humans healthy and happy
- To increase oxygen level
- To protect wildlife and reduce soil, water, air pollution

2. The Context:

Trees are very essential for humans. We can't live without trees. We get food, shelter and many useful things from trees. They are required to sustain our lives. Apart from this, tree plantation gives us pleasure and happiness. Being a part of the social responsibility, NSS unit of our college gives priority to tree plantation.

3. The Practice:

NSS unit of our college organizes tree plantation campaign every year. The basic aim of this activity is to save the environment and beautify our lives. Saint Tukaram said: "Trees are our best friends." NSS unit has shouldered the responsibility of making society aware of nature conservation. Trees are valuable gifts of God. Humans depend on nature. We fulfil our three basic needs from nature. They help us in different ways. Lives of humans, animals and insects cannot be possible without trees. NSS unit of our college arranged Tree Plantation Drive on College Campus (25 Jan. 2022) and on Sahyadri Devarai, Satara (9 April 2022). Students, faculty, non-teaching staff of our college joined this campaign to make society aware of nature conservation.

4. Evidence of Success:

- After tree plantation, natives should look after plants.

- Nature conservation program should be strengthened not only in rural areas but also in cities.
- Spontaneous efforts should be taken for tree plantation.

6. Problems encountered and Resources Required:

- After tree plantation natives should look after plants.
- Nature conservation program should be strengthened not only in rural areas but also in cities.
- Spontaneous efforts should be taken for tree plantation
